Let the Monmouth Museum bring our teaching Travel Trunks to your facility.

Your residents can experience and explore the arts, sciences and history with hands-on artifacts, reproductions and pictures. Take a trip to Ancient Egypt or travel back in time to the Colonial Era, the Victorian Era or World War II - The Homefront.

Professional Museum docents present the information and resource materials in each trunk and host a discussion on the featured topic.

Ancient Egypt

Explore the ancient culture of Egypt in this fascinating trunk. Hear about the many aspects of Egyptian history and learn about Egyptian gods. Look, touch and feel many reproductions of Egyptian artifacts and learn their significances.

Victorian Era

See what the Jersey Shore was like 100 years ago and recall how different life was then without modern conveniences. Find out what the artifacts in this trunk can tell you about life in the Victorian Era.

Colonial Era

Our Colonial Era trunk will spark imaginations and discussions about our early ancestors. See and touch clothing, sewing tools, early toys and games, kitchen utensils and more. Available during summer months only - June 1 through August 31.

World War II - The Homefront

Revisit the War years and the experiences of people in America as they dealt with food and gas rationing, blackouts, women joining the workforce and our soldiers overseas.
